

2004

AeroFarms technology invented by Dr. Ed Harwood, former professor at Cornell University

20' research prototype developed

2009

Begins selling farm equipment

Sells first commercial farm

2011

Dr. Harwood joins David Rosenberg and Marc Oshima to co-found current day AeroFarms

Business model revamped - AeroFarms now owner / operator

2013

AeroFarms builds out 'Model 3' farm

2015

AeroFarms builds 'Model 4' commercial farm

2016

Begins selling leafy greens commercially

9th facility built: world's largest vertical farm

Automation in harvesting and packaging

2017

Closed first Strategic Partnership sale. Focus on berries with large multi-national

Grant and collaboration with entity of the USDA

ADM CAPITAL

BERNSTEIN

Closed $40mm Series-C Capital Raise

2018

DELL EMC Technology partnership with Dell

Completed first Strategic Partnership project

Prototyping 'Model 5' of growing technology

Automation in seeding and cleaning

Grown 200 additional varieties

Achieved our business plan yields at scale

Sam Schatz

Managing Director + Global Head of Farm Development

SamSchatz@AeroFarms.com

917-288-6850

 AeroFarms

1

3